The forum is a venue to spin knowledge from disaster and weave wisdom of disaster risk reduction into society.

The forum will

- 1) welcome disaster risk reduction experts as well as non-experts
- 2) promote the implementation of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction
- 3) focus on solution-oriented discussions on disaster risk reduction with concrete examples provided by multi-stakeholders
- 4) illuminate Japanese experiences on disaster risk reduction and recovery process of the Tohoku Region
- 5) explore and develop business opportunities in disaster risk reduction
- 6) express thanks for assistance to Tohoku from all over the world after the Great East Japan Earthquake and Tsunami on March 11, 2011 is a traditional Japanese term, indicating a holistic approach to reduce human and economic losses from disasters, which represents activities in all disaster phases, including prevention, recovery, response and mitigation.
